- 1.2 These rules and information on data protection (hereinafter: „Rules”) include the conditions of data processing of the Company. The Homepage is owned and operated by the Company. The Company, as data controller, subjects itself to the contents of these Rules, furthermore undertakes liability to that all the data management connected to its activities shall be compliant to the requirements specified in these Rules and the valid Hungarian and EU legal regulations.
- 1.3 The objective of these Rules is that in the whole scope of services provided by the Company, the user can be assured of that – regardless of the user’s sex, nationality or home address – the user’s rights and basic rights of freedom, such as especially their right to private life will be respected while their personal data is processed electronically (data protection). The Company shall process the recorded personal data in confidence, by complying with the legal regulations and international recommendations on data protection and these Rules on data protection.

2. INTERPRETATION OF THE RULES, DEFINITIONS

- 1.4 These Rules shall be interpreted based on the principles of English language in consideration of the general legal principles of the Hungarian civil law. When interpreting these Rules, the words and phrases written in capital letters shall have the meaning conferred to them on their first place of appearance in the Rules – independently of their tense, mode and case, or whether they are singular or plural.
- 1.5 In harmony with the provisions of Act CXII of year 2011 on the right to possess personal data and the freedom of information (hereinafter: „Info Law”) and the Regulation (EU) 2016/679 on the protection of natural persons with regard to the processing of personal data and on the free movement of such data, and repealing Directive 95/46/EC (hereinafter: „GDPR”) where it cannot be interpreted otherwise based on the context, the terms used in low-case letters in these Rules shall mean the following:

affected person/user	any person or any specified person identified or that can be identified – either directly or indirectly – based on personal information that contact the Company via the Homepage, or any person specified above using the Homepage;

business advertisement	information, statement, method of appearance, aimed at promoting the sales or other usage of marketable movables that can be possessed – including money, securities and financial assets and natural resources that can be utilized as things – (hereinafter jointly: the product), services, real estates, rights constituting asset value (hereinafter all of these jointly: goods) or, in connection with this objective, aimed at popularizing the name, trademark, activities of the corporation or goods or brands;

controller	means the Company which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data;
consent/ approval	of the data subject means any freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous indication of the data subject's wishes by which he or she, by a statement or by a clear affirmative action, signifies agreement to the processing of personal data relating to him or her;
data processing	means any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organization, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction;
data management	fulfilling technical tasks connected to data processing operations independently of the method and tools used for their realization and the place of usage, provided that the technical tasks are realized with data;
destruction	the complete physical destruction of data carrier containing the data;
data transfer	making the data available to a specified third party;
data erasure	making data unrecognizable in a way that their restoring is not possible any longer;
data blocking	providing data with identification marking in order to limit its further management definitely or for a specified period; instead of erasure, the Company blocks the data where the definite erasure of the data would breach the lawful interests of the affected person; blocked data shall be treated exclusively as long as the objective of data management exists, which excluded the erasure of the personal or sensitive data;
disclosure	making the data available to anyone;
objection	the statement of the affected person by objecting the processing of its personal data and by which it requests the erasure of the processed data;
personal data	means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person ('data subject'); an identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person;
personal data breach	means a breach of security leading to the accidental or unlawful destruction, loss, alteration, unauthorized disclosure of, or access to, personal data transmitted, stored or otherwise processed
personal identification data	the first and last name, maiden name, of the affected person, its sex, place and date of birth, its mother's birth first name and last name, permanent address, place of stay, social security identification mark jointly or any of them which is or may be suitable for identifying the affected person;

pseudonymisation	means the processing of personal data in such a manner that the personal data can no longer be attributed to a specific data subject without the use of additional information, provided that such additional information is kept separately and is subject to technical and organizational measures to ensure that the personal data are not attributed to an identified or identifiable natural person
processor	means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which manages personal data on behalf of the controller;
sensitive data	personal data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, or trade union membership, and the processing of genetic data, biometric data for the purpose of uniquely identifying a natural person, data concerning health or data concerning a natural person's sex life or sexual orientation;
supervisory authority	means the authority which is responsible for personal data and the freedom of information in Hungary, the Nemzeti Adatvédelmi és Információszabadság Hatóság (Hungarian National Authority for Data Protection and Freedom of Information) (address: 1125 Budapest, Szilágyi Erzsébet fasor 22/. Mail address: 1387 Budapest Pf 40.)
third party	means a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or body other than the data subject, controller, processor and persons who, under the direct authority of the controller or processor, are authorized to process personal data;

1.6 If it is not concluded differently from the text otherwise:

- (a) reference to any legal regulations in these Rules includes the incidental later modified, expanded, uniform structure of the legal regulation in question;
- (b) in these Rules the titles and paragraph numbers serve exclusively reference and they shall be considered only together with the interpretation of the text of these Rules;
- (c) all references to a person in these Rules mean reference to any person, company, association, government, state, state institution or authority;
